

RTM Consulting

The Challenge

You need additional bandwidth, a particular skill set, or just some temporary help – but the ‘highly skilled resources’ available through most channels rarely live up to their billing.

Through our Just-in-Time Resourcing® (JITR) brand of solutions, RTM Consulting advises professional services and consulting organizations to optimize their own utilization by using third party resources for peak load needs.

But when it comes to staffing a mission critical role, we have all learned that you cannot always rely on resources sourced from a high-volume staffing agency.

The Solution

Based on our work with some of the world’s leading professional services teams, and the deep industry experience of our executive team, we have developed relationships with a number of extremely high-caliber professional services veterans whom we can attest are of the highest caliber for your most demanding staffing needs.

Hand-selected for their proven talent and experience, these professionals are now available to you through RTM Consulting’s Premier Resource Network.

Contact Us:

www.RTMConsulting.net

855-786-2555

info@RTMConsulting.net

Premier Resource Network

Our mission is to help consulting, professional and shared services organizations get better at what they do

Who We Are

RTM Consulting provides strategic and operational advisory services to technology companies and other industries to assist them in increasing revenues and growing margins by leveraging consulting, professional and shared services more effectively.

About PremierResourceNetwork.com

- ▶ Based on the success of the many recommendations we have made, and the feedback we’ve received from you, our clients and partners, we are pleased to announce the availability of our Premier Resource Network, a boutique staffing service designed to support your most critical resourcing needs with hand-selected professionals whom we know and trust well enough to endorse and stand behind.
- ▶ From developers to architects to managers, practice leads to executive management – those resources that you will find listed herein are highly capable in their respective roles. Please visit the Premier Resource Network website to review the resumes (grouped by role category) and contact us to discuss gaining access to these world-class resources.
- ▶ The Premier Resource Network website will be continually updated with new resources as they become available. Register here to receive updates when new resumes or offers are posted to the site. If you have a particular need that is not represented, please contact us and we can explore our extensive network to identify the resource(s) you need.