

We Help Services Organizations
Get Better At What They Do

The Challenge

We have all been there, you need to find new leadership, locate a particular or hard to find skill set, or just find some temporary help, but have found the 'highly skilled resources' available through traditional recruiting sources rarely live up to their billing. According to the Society of HR Management, the cost of a bad hire can sometimes be as much as 5x the annual salary of that person! RTM Consulting has a solution – our Premier Resource Network.

The Solution

Based on our work with some of the world's leading professional, consulting, support and field services teams, combined with the deep industry experience of our leadership team, we have developed relationships with a number of extremely high-caliber services professionals whom we can attest are of the highest caliber for your most demanding staffing needs.

Hand-selected for their proven talent and experience, these professionals are now available to you through RTMC's Premier Resource Network.
